

1. The basic control for the safeguarding of classified information is established by Executive Order 10501. Section 7 (c) of Executive Order 10501 stipulated that:

Approved For Release 2001/03/02 : CIA-RDP67-00896R000100170047-5

"Except as otherwise provided by section 102 of the National Security Act of July 26, 1947, c. 343, 61 Stat. 498, as amended, 50 U.S.C. sec. 403, classified defense information originating in another department or agency shall not be disseminated outside the receiving department or agency without the consent of the originating department or agency. Documents and material containing defense information which are classified Top Secret or Secret shall not be reproduced without the consent of the originating department or agency."

In order, however, for the intelligence components of the USIB member departments and agencies to discharge their responsibilities more effectively:

- (a) Each such component may disseminate documents or disclose information or intelligence originally issued by another, to the intelligence components of other USIB agencies unless the original dissemination was specifically limited.
- (b) Each such component, through authorized processing facilities may reproduce documents, unless otherwise excepted, containing intelligence and intelligence information originally issued by another.
- (c) Each such component may disseminate reports produced by it even though information or intelligence used in the production originated in another agency, provided:
 - (1) No control markings were placed upon the original source document preventing such dissemination.
 - (2) The original information or intelligence is paraphrased and is used in a manner which effectively conceals the originating agency, the source, the place acquired, and the manner of acquisition.
